Consumer Insights

Methodology

- The 2018 State of the California Consumer survey aims to understand the process of home buying and selling, as well as the motivation behind renting and owning from the perspective of the Hispanic California consumer
- The survey was sent via email to a random sample of 498,696 Hispanic consumers throughout California.
- The survey instrument was a questionnaire with both multiple choice and open-ended questions. There were 2,964 valid survey responses, equivalent to a response rate of 0.6 percent. The margin of error for this survey was +/- 1.8 percent at a 95 percent confidence level.

Homeownership Really Matters Because it Provides More Than Just a Roof and a Shelter

Homeownership enhances quality of life in a variety of ways:

- Homeownership leads to better health
- Homeownership results in higher educational achievement
- Homeownership lowers crime rates and improves safety

Spill-over Benefits of Homeownership

HEALTH

Homeowners and their children tend to be happier and healthier than nonowners. One reason may be the wealth-building effect of homeownership and the sense of control it brings.

CRIME

Research has confirmed homeowners have a lower instance of involvement in crime than nonowners.

EDUCATION

Homeowners tend to accrue more wealth and save more money – such financial practices are associated with lower rates of homeowners' children dropping out of school.

Key Takeaways

- Homeownership Is Still the Dream
 - Hispanic consumers say that freedom and status are social benefits of homeownership. They feel that homeownership is the best long term investment they can make.
- Barriers to Homeownership
 - Similar to last year, Hispanic consumers find challenges with affordability and unfamiliarity with the home buying process and associated costs.
- Relationship with Agents
 - Hispanic homebuyers relied most heavily on the referrals from those around them to help them find an agent and relied on their chosen agent for their knowledge about the market and neighborhood.
