

MEDIATOR PROFILE – CHRISTINE E. MIRABEL, ESQ.

EDUCATION

Undergraduate: Santa Clara University

Law School: University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law

Mediation: Harvard Law School, Advanced Mediation: Mediating Complex Disputes, accepted for June 2020 session; Straus Institute of Dispute Resolution, Mediating the Litigated Case; Southern California Mediation Association, Mentorship Program

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

For the past 25 years, Christine Mirabel has participated in countless mediations, both as a mediator and attorney. Those mediations have involved many areas of the law including complex business, real estate, finance, insurance, environmental and employment disputes. Christine's extensive experience negotiating real estate and commercial transactions, combined with acting as a mediator in numerous lawsuits, gives her an extraordinary perspective on the mediation process. Not only does she see the parties' interests and goals through their lens, but she uses her negotiation experience and training as a guide and framework to assist the parties in resolving their disputes.

Christine was recognized for her exceptional achievements, and received the 2014 Private Company Corporate Counsel of the Year (at least $500 million) award from the Los Angeles Business Journal. She serves on several mediation panels, including the California Academy of Mediation Professionals and Los Angeles County Bar Association, Attorney Client Mediation and Arbitration Services.

STATEMENT

As a mediator, I use my comprehensive legal and business background together with my analytical ability to help the parties identify their interests and common ground, and achieve their mediation objectives. Persistent by nature, I am dogged in my search for creative solutions to resolving disputes. If a matter does not settle at mediation, I follow up with the parties afterward to continue exploring possible paths to resolution.
