STATEMENT

Over 35 years of practical experience working with high net worth families and their various business and real estate holdings. This has included: complex income tax planning, estate and gift structures, real estate acquisitions and dispositions, formation of numerous legal entities, reviewing financial and life insurance products, assisting in the selection of wealth advisors, and effectively handling extremely private and confidential family matters.

For the past few years, I have been working extensively in the area of disputes involving trustees and beneficiaries. Also, working on conflicts between general partners and limited partners.
