

MEDIATOR PROFILE – ROGER A. MOSS, ESQ.

EDUCATION

Undergraduate School: UC Berkeley
Law School: UC Hastings College of the Law

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Roger A. Moss is Mediation Counsel for the Conflict Intervention Service, an innovative program that mediates housing conflict in San Francisco. CIS is funded by the Mayor's Office of Housing and Community Development, and operated by the Bar Association of San Francisco.

Roger's private practice focuses on real estate mediation, primarily conducted online via video conference, telephone, and email. Previously Roger worked in the commercial real estate industry in negotiation and executive roles. He has resolved complex disputes and relational conflict in the nation's most culturally diverse environments, including San Francisco, Manhattan, Los Angeles, and Honolulu.

Roger serves as chairman of the board for the Association for Dispute Resolution of Northern California, and is a member of the WSBA ADR Section Executive Committee.

AFFILIATIONS

California State Bar #123741
Washington State Bar #51679
California BRE #1224398
The Bar Association of San Francisco
Multiple mediation panels and associations

STATEMENT

Today's consumers and their attorneys expect swift, flexible, affordable services. Installment negotiation reduces costs associated with assembling multiple participants at a single location; Slow-baked results create greater satisfaction for the parties. Through online dispute resolution, I work independently with each participant on their schedule.

Protracted conflict damages business and ruins relationships. I help people focus on common interests, and help them surface creative solutions that add value. Giving principals an authentic voice in the process is essential to positive outcomes.

FEES

$495 per hour, with a four-hour minimum.
Sliding scale available for distressed parties, including small businesses and nonprofits.

SERVICE AREAS

Serving clients globally through online service.