STATEMENT

After hundreds of successful mediations over the last 15 years, I can assure you that by the beginning of the session I will know and understand all of the parties and the challenges that brought them to the table. Some say that success is a matter of luck. I have learned that thorough preparation and planning make luck more likely to happen. My role in mediation is as a coach, advisor, and settlement advocate. Ultimately, the parties are best served when they control their own future.
