REALTORS® know very well the importance, and the complexity, of the various state and federal disclosure laws governing real estate transactions in California. Lease/Rental Disclosure Chart is designed to provide REALTORS® and their clients with an easy-to-use reference guide for determining the applicability of these laws to the lease and rental transactions most commonly handled by real estate agents. Leases with an option to purchase and long-term ground leases are treated like sales transactions, not leases, for disclosure purposes.

Water Submetering	Before executing a rental agreement, a landlord who intends to charge a tenant separately from rent for water service in a property with submeters must clearly disclose a long list of information. See footnote three below. This law applies to properties with at least two dwelling units. The effective date of this law is 2018. Submetering is required for all new construction properties built pursuant to standards which may only be proposed and adopted after January 1, 2018. For other properties, this law applies only when the landlord elects to charge a tenant separately from rent for water service with submeters⁴.	Yes	No		Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1954.201 et seq. Cal. Health & Safety Code § 177922.14 Cal. Water Code §§ 517 and 537.

² While a seller of real property has a duty to disclose to a buyer any known material facts that affect the value or desirability of the property, there is no existing case law that has expressly imposed this disclosure duty on landlords. However, both residential and commercial landlords still have a duty to disclose dangerous conditions or even material facts when failure to disclose such facts would be fraudulent. 10 Miller & Starr, Cal. Real Estate (4th ed. 2015) Section 34:111; see also 1 Miller & Starr, supra Section 1:142 (General elements of fraud); Merrill v. Buck (1962) 58 Cal.2d 552, 562 (an owner's agent was liable for negligence for failing to disclose a dangerous condition to a tenant.)

³ For a commercial property, the landlord property owner has the duty to keep the premises in compliance with all applicable laws regarding maintenance repairs and use. However, this obligation may be shifted to the tenant by express covenant in the lease.

Glenn R. Sewell Sheet Metal, Inc. v. Loverde, 70 Cal. 2d 666, 671-672, 75 Cal.

Rptr. 889, 451 P.2d 721 (1969). In general, neither party to a commercial lease owes a duty to repair leased property in the absence of an agreement allocating that responsibility, however, "when preventative or reparative actions are required by laws and orders governing the premises and their uses. In such a case public policy requires that someone at all times be obliged to comply with such laws and orders, and parties to a lease will not be permitted to create a hiatus in their respective duties of compliance.... Since the property owner is initially under the duty to comply with all laws and orders, he, as lessor, remains subject to that duty unless it is assumed by the lessee." (Brown v. Green 8 Cal.4th 812 (1994) quoting Sewell). This is especially the case where the original installation was defective. Petroleum Collections Inc. v. Swords, 48 Cal. App. 3d 841, 845, 848, 122 Cal. Rptr. 114 (5th Dist. 1975). In terms of the liability to third parties, a commercial landowner cannot totally abrogate its landowner responsibilities merely by signing a lease (where the property allows admission to the public). As the owner of property, and a lessor out of possession must exercise due care and must act reasonably toward the tenant as well as to unknown third persons. At the time the lease is executed and upon renewal a landlord has a right to reenter the property, has control of the property, and must inspect the premises to make the premises reasonably safe from dangerous conditions. Lopez v Superior Court 52 Cal.Rptr.2d 821 (1996) (See California Practice Guide Landlord-Tenant 2:204.5 and Miller & Starr §34:100)

⁴ The Water submetering disclosure must contain the following information in at least 10-point type, and may be incorporated into the rental agreement.

(a) That the tenant will be billed for water service separately from the rent.

(b) An estimate of the monthly bill for water service for dwelling units at the property based on either of the following:

(1) The average or median bill for water service for comparative dwelling units at the property over any three of the past six months.

(2) The amount of the bill based upon average indoor water use of a family of four of approximately 200 gallons per day, and including all other monthly charges that will be assessed. Estimates for other gallons per day may also be included. The estimate shall include a statement that the average family of four uses about 200 gallons of water each day.

(c) The due dates and payment procedures for bills for water service.

(d) A mailing address, an email address, and a toll-free telephone number or a local telephone number for the tenant to contact the landlord or billing agent with questions regarding the water service billing and the days and hours for regular telephone service at either number.

(e) That the monthly bill for water service may only include the following charges:

(1) Payment due for the amount of usage as measured by the submeter and charged at allowable rates in accordance with subdivision (a) of Section 1954.205.

(2) Payment of a portion of the fixed fee charged by the water purveyors for water service.

(3) A fee for the landlord's or billing agent's costs in accordance with paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 1954.205.

(4) Any late fee, with the amounts and times assessed, in compliance with Section 1954.213.

(f) A statement that the tenant shall notify the landlord of any leaks, drips, water fixtures that do not shut off properly, including, but not limited to, a toilet, or other problems with the water system, including, but not limited to, problems with water-saving devices, and that the landlord is required to investigate, and, if necessary, repair these problems within 21 days, otherwise, the water bill will be adjusted pursuant to law.

(g) A mailing address, an email address, and a toll-free telephone number or a local telephone number for the tenant to use to contact the landlord, or an agent of the landlord, to report any leaks, drips, water fixtures that do not shut off properly, including, but not limited to, a toilet, or other problems with the water system, including, but not limited to, problems with water-saving devices.

(h) A statement that the landlord shall provide any of the following information if asked by the tenant:

(1) The location of the submeter.

(2) The calculations used to determine a monthly bill.

(3) The date the submeter was last certified for use, and the date it is next scheduled for certification, if known.

(i) A statement that if the tenant believes that the submeter reading is inaccurate or the submeter is malfunctioning, the tenant shall first notify the landlord in writing and request an investigation. A tenant shall be provided with notice that if an alleged submeter malfunction is not resolved by the landlord, a tenant may contact the local county sealer and request that the submeter be tested. Contact information for the county sealer shall be included in the disclosure to the tenant.

(j) A statement that this disclosure is only a general overview of the laws regarding submeters and that the laws can be found at Chapter 2.5 (commencing with Section 1954.201) of Title 5 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code, available online or at most libraries.
