Information about Bed Bugs

Bed bug Appearance: Bed bugs have six legs. Adult bed bugs have flat bodies about  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch long and try to stay hidden.

Life Cycle and Reproduction: An average bed bug lives for about 10 months. Female bed bugs can lay up to 5 eggs a day.

Bed bugs can survive for months without feeding.

Bed bug Bites: Because bed bugs usually feed at night, most people are bitten in their sleep.

Common signs and symptoms of a possible bed bug infestation:

- Small red to reddish brown fecal spots on mattresses, box springs, bed frames, mattresses, and bed sheets.
- Molted bed bug skins, white, sticky eggs, or empty eggshells.
- Very heavily infested areas may have a characteristically sweet odor.
- Red, itchy bite marks, especially on the legs, arms, and other body parts exposed while sleeping.

For more information, see the Internet Web sites of the United States Environmental Protection Agency and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Secondly, the notice must include the procedure that the tenant must follow to report suspected bed bug infestations.

Additional Disclosure Obligations

Whenever a pest control operator conducts inspections of a unit (including surrounding units), the landlord must provide the tenant with a copy of the inspection report.

However, for confirmed infestations in common areas, all tenants shall be provided notice of the infestation.

Landlord is prohibited from showing or renting vacant units if the landlord “knows” it has a bed bug infestation.

This law prohibits a landlord from showing, renting, or leasing to a prospective tenant any vacant unit that the landlord knows has a bed bug infestation.

Additionally, this law does not impose a duty on a landlord to inspect a dwelling unit or the common areas for bed bugs.

A landlord may not engage in any retaliatory conduct against a tenant who has notified the lan

This law only applies to:
